

Graph Theory & Surface Reconstruction

Jenny Zhen

April 25, 2013

Abstract

The purpose of this paper is to utilize a technique for recreating models of 3-D objects. This process is referred to as surface reconstruction, which replaces a set of sample points using a faceted geometric model. Concepts of graph theory are used, specifically duals of graphs, n -regular graphs, bridgeless graphs, and matchings.

one

one sub

text

text